Eniwetok Test May Lead To Super H-Bomb

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The United States announced today it had "successfully" carried out atomic tests at Eniwetok including some experiments that may lead to H-bombs.

The AEC's announcement said "In furtherance of the president's announcement of Jan. 31, 1950, the test program included experiments contributing to thermonuclear weapons research."

Security Is Goal
(The term "thermonuclear" refers to reactions involving the release of atomic energy through the fusion of hydrogen atoms.)

On Jan. 31 President Truman gave the go-ahead for development of the super-H-bomb so that the United States may defend itself "against any possible aggressor."

"I have directed the atomic energy commission to continue its work on all forms of atomic weapons, including the so-called hydrogen or super-bomb," the President then said.

"Like all other work in the field of atomic weapons, it is being and will be carried forward on a basis consistent with the overall objectives of our program for peace and security."

Actual Blast Unlikely
Today's AEC announcement indicated that the tests at the supersecret Pacific proving ground were aimed also at providing new information for use in civil defense against atomic attack.

The commission said the program "also included comprehensive measurement of blast and thermal effects on structures, aircraft and various other items."

The reference to thermo nuclear weapons research was the first made by the commission in connection with an actual testing program.

But there was nothing in the AEC's announcement to indicate whether or not an actual H-bomb of any appreciable size had been exploded.

No Conservation Boss Picked Yet

Naming Of Director Put Off To June 6

LANSING—(AP)—The conservation commission again failed today to appoint a new state conservation director.

At its annual organization meeting, the commission elected Richard H. Fletcher of Bay City as chairman to succeed Joseph P. Rahilly of Newberry.

The office of vice chairman was created for the first time and Commissioner Harold W. Glasen of Lansing was elected to the post.

Taking the chair, Fletcher said that a "momentous meeting" of the commission had been held last night but that no agreement had been reached toward the selection of a director.

He indicated, however, that progress had been made and he said he hoped the announcement of the appointment of a new director could be made at the next meeting, June 6 and 7 at the Higgins Lake training school.

Wayland Osgood, veteran secretary of the commission, was reappointed. He is one of the leading candidates for the directorship but his reappointment as secretary was not seen as eliminating him as a possibility for director.

Democrats Plan 1952 Rally; Truman Only Candidate In Sight

DENVER — (AP) — Chicago was recommended today as the site of the 1952 Democratic National convention by a special committee named to study the sites.

By JACK BELL

DENVER—(AP)—President Truman was the only candidate in sight today as the Democratic national committee met here to pick its 1952 presidential nominating convention site.

Although Philadelphia still was bidding, Chicago had the inside track for the convention, expected to be held the week of July 21, 1952—two weeks after the Republicans meet there to name their nominee. Philadelphia raised its bid to $367,000 in cash and benefits. Miami, offered $300,000.

National committee members made it plain individually in interviews and collectively in cheering approval of his programs that Mr. Truman has but to lift his finger to win nomination for a new term.

Such party wheel horses as Frank McHale, Indiana national committeeman, told reporters that if Mr. Truman himself doesn't want the nomination, he can just about name his nominee.

The president said again yesterday he has made up his mind what he is going to do in 1952 but isn't telling anyone his decision. This has been variously interpreted as indicating that he will—or will not—run. If he should run, the president told a Washington news conference yesterday, he would regard it as a try for a second rather than a third term. Although he went to the White House in 1945, Mr. Truman was elected on his first four-year term in 1948.

Democrats who wound up a 26-state party conference here yesterday left no doubt that they have recovered from the first effects of the president's firing of Gen. Douglas MacArthur and intend to carry the fight to the Republicans in an effort to brand the GOP as the "war party."

Mr. Truman said indirectly the MacArthur firing hasn't affected his plans for 1952—whatever they are.

U. S. Prisoners Freed In Korea

Americans Rescue 19 Captured By Reds

CENTRAL FRONT, Korea—(AP)—Eighteen American marines and one soldier captured by Chinese Communists last November were rescued today on the outskirts of the newly recaptured town of Chunchon.

All said they had been with Associated Press photographer Frank Noel at prison camps in North Korea from December until about March 7 or 8. They said Noel was in good health when they last saw him and they were sure he is alive and well. Noel was captured Dec. 2 in northeast Korea.

The liberated men seemed in good health. They were dirty and bearded.

They said they had been taken to a prison camp near the Manchurian border. Most were seized in the Changlin reservoir area and in the retreat of the U. S. Marines from there.

Names of the liberated men were withheld.

The freed Americans told war correspondents they were among a group of 200 to 300 American prisoners who were marched to the vicinity of the North Korean capital of Pyongyang in March.

Later, they said, they were sent south from Pyongyang while the remainder of the group was marched back north.

College Boys Take Test Saturday To Settle Draft Status

PRINCETON, N. J.—(AP)—A three-hour test tomorrow may determine whether 175,000 students throughout the nation will stay in college or shoulder a gun.

Deferments until Aug. 20 have been authorized for an estimated 500,000 draft-age collegians to permit them to take the examination either tomorrow, June 16, June 30 or July 12.

Midnight tonight is the deadline to apply for the test on the last three dates.

The tests will be given in more than 1,000 centers across the country.

Scores will be sent to local draft boards within a month after the exams to use along with college grades in deciding who will be deferred.

Students will have to ask their local draft boards for their marks. The education testing service of Princeton will administer the exams. Questions will be on the multiple choice type, with the student asked to pick the best answer to a given problem.

Selective service has left final decisions up to the local boards but suggested these standards to guide them on deferments:

1. Seniors should be permitted to finish their college education.

2. Seniors who wish to go to graduate school should be in the

Truman Red-Stopper Budget Faces Rough Course In Congress

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman's new $8,500,000,000 stop-communism foreign aid program seemed certain today to face a rough course in Congress.

But the initial opposition which steamed up yesterday when the president outlined the vast military and economic help program may cool off by the time voting starts, probably in mid-summer.

"Much too big," said Rep. Ben Jensen (R-Iowa), who suggested offhand that the program could be trimmed to "not more than $6,000,000,000."

Democrats Caged
Other influential Republicans privately said they shared Jensen's views but withheld public comment.

Administration Democrats were wary of comment.

Their views coincided generally with those of Chairman Richards (D-SC) of the House Foreign Affairs committee.

"The president's program will receive the minute scrutiny that it warrants," Richards told newsmen.

Richards wouldn't express his personal views of the program's merits, but some of his Democratic colleagues thought the proposal was too ambitious.

However, administration leader pointed to yesterday's House vote, and last week's Senate vote, favoring a food loan to India as indicative of congressional sentiment for continued foreign aid.

Help Fight Famine
The India-aid bill, providing for a $190,000,000 loan to help India buy grain products to combat famine, was in a Senate-House conference following its 293 to 94 approval by the House.

Among the things the conferees must compromise are:

1. A Senate provision—rejected by the House—to require the economic Cooperation Administration (ECA) to try to get from India, in exchange for the grain, "substantial quantities" of manganese and monazite sand, potentially useful in atomic energy production.

2. Another Senate provision, not considered by the House, setting aside part of the loan interest for educational and cultural work in India.

3. A House requirement that the grain or other food be purchased in the United States.

4. A House provision that at least half of the food be transported to India in American ships.

A bi-partisan vote put the bill through the House after four days of debate. Only 36 Democrats and 58 Republicans voted against it.

The same bi-partisan support was counted on to save the new foreign-aid program, with its $6,250,000,000 for military assistance and $2,250,000,000 for economic aid for non-Communist areas. It would cover the fiscal year starting July 1.

Field dispatches said the new crossings were made on the Western front north of Seoul and on the central front northeast of Chunchon. Both these tank-infantry teams withdrew to South Korea by nightfall.

"The 38th Parallel means nothing to me," said Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, commander of the U. S. 8th Army.

He showed he meant it by crossing into Red Korea himself.

Van Fleet visited a tank and infantry task force. It was sitting solidly as a huge road block north of the border astride the Reds' main highway.

"The Eighth Army is in an all-out offensive," Van Fleet said. "Considerable progress" has been made.

Field dispatches told of open flight of Chinese toward the 38th Parallel from some fronts, while they fought stubbornly on others.

The pursuing Eighth Army, Van Fleet said, will "not be limited by such barriers as the 38th Parallel in chasing them down."

Tactics Work Well
Airmen said they killed or wounded 2,000 Reds Friday in strikes on both sides of the border.

On a tour of the front Van Fleet pinned distinguished service crosses on Lt. Gen. Edward M. Almond, 10th Corps commander, and Maj. Gen. Clark L. Ruffner, Second Division commander, for their part in smashing the Reds' main highway.

John Maragon Gets 8-Month Jail Term

WASHINGTON—(AP)—John Maragon, who used to be a frequent caller at the White House, went to jail today for lying in the Senate's "five per center" inquiry nearly two years ago.

The one-time Kansas bootblack is due to serve an 8 to 24 month sentence. He went off to jail after Federal District Judge Jennings Raily turned down a plea that the sentence be suspended.

Edward J. Hayes, Maragon's attorney, called the Greek-born Maragon "only a scapegoat" in the investigation of influencing peddling. Maragon, who once was a friend of President Truman's military aide, Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, heard his lawyers plea for mercy with bowed head.

Captain Convicted
For Negligence In Hospital Ship Loss

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—Capt. Barton E. Bacon has been convicted of negligence in the collision-sinking of the navy hospital ship Benevolence with a loss of 28 lives.

A navy court martial yesterday found the 49-year-old Annapolis graduate guilty of steaming too fast in fog which shrouded the accident scene off the Golden Gate Aug. 25 and failing to reverse engines on sighting the freighter Mary Luckenbach.

Sentence could range from loss of promotion numbers to dismissal from the service. It will be announced after the verdict has been reviewed by navy authorities in Washington.

Eighth Army Strikes Into North Korea

Parallel No Barrier In Swift Attack

TOKYO—(AP)—Allied tanks and troops today slashed across the 38th Parallel at two more points in their officially-designated all-out offensive to hunt down the battered and retreating Communists.

The new crossing kept up the pressure on the Reds, who already were battling an allied spearhead now thrust four miles into North Korea on the East-Central front.

Commander Crosses
Field dispatches said the new crossings were made on the Western front north of Seoul and on the central front northeast of Chunchon. Both these tank-infantry teams withdrew to South Korea by nightfall.

Upper Peninsula Men Receive Approval

LANSING — (AP) — The senate today confirmed seven of governor Williams' appointees but refused to act on two others.

The chamber took no action on the appointment of Dr. Emmett Binkert, Carson City osteopath, commission and Charles R. A. to the state crippled children's Smith of Detroit to the unemployment compensation appeal board.

As a result, Binkert may be re-named by the governor to continue until the next legislative session but Smith must be dropped because of a statute which continues his predecessor until a successor is confirmed.

The medical profession and the osteopathic profession have deluged the legislature with telegrams opposing and demanding Dr. Binkert's confirmation.

The following were confirmed: Board of control of Michigan college of mining and technology—Cyril Clark of Ontonagon; State Securities Commissioner—John R. Dykema of Detroit; Economic development commission—Burr E. Sherwood of Stambaugh;

Mackinac Island state park commission—James P. Dunnigan of West Branch and Mrs. Margaret Price of Ann Arbor; Board of Pharmacy—Paul C. Cousen of Detroit;

State Social Welfare commission—Harry J. Trainor of Lake Linden.

Forty feet away from Patricia's grave was another burial place. In it was a bloody, yellow bedspread. This, Davis said, is the same bedspread missing from McCracken's Buena Park motel cabin.

Autopsy surgeons reported there were 15 gashes on the little girl's head, each one-half to one inch deep. The doctors said she had frontal and basal skull fractures which could have been caused only with an axe or cleaver or a similarly heavy instrument.

Taken to the woodland grave scene, McCracken showed no outward emotion. To every question by officers he gave the same answer: "My lawyer told me not to say anything." When he was taken to the Orange county morgue to see the child's body he maintained his cold, blank expression. He has steadfastly denied seeing or harming the child, despite a web of circumstantial evidence.

Windup Gavel Falls Tonight In Legislature

Budget Still Drips With Red Ink

LANSING — (AP) — The 66th Michigan legislature comes to the end of its road today, but still is not certain where the road is coming out of the fiscal wilderness.

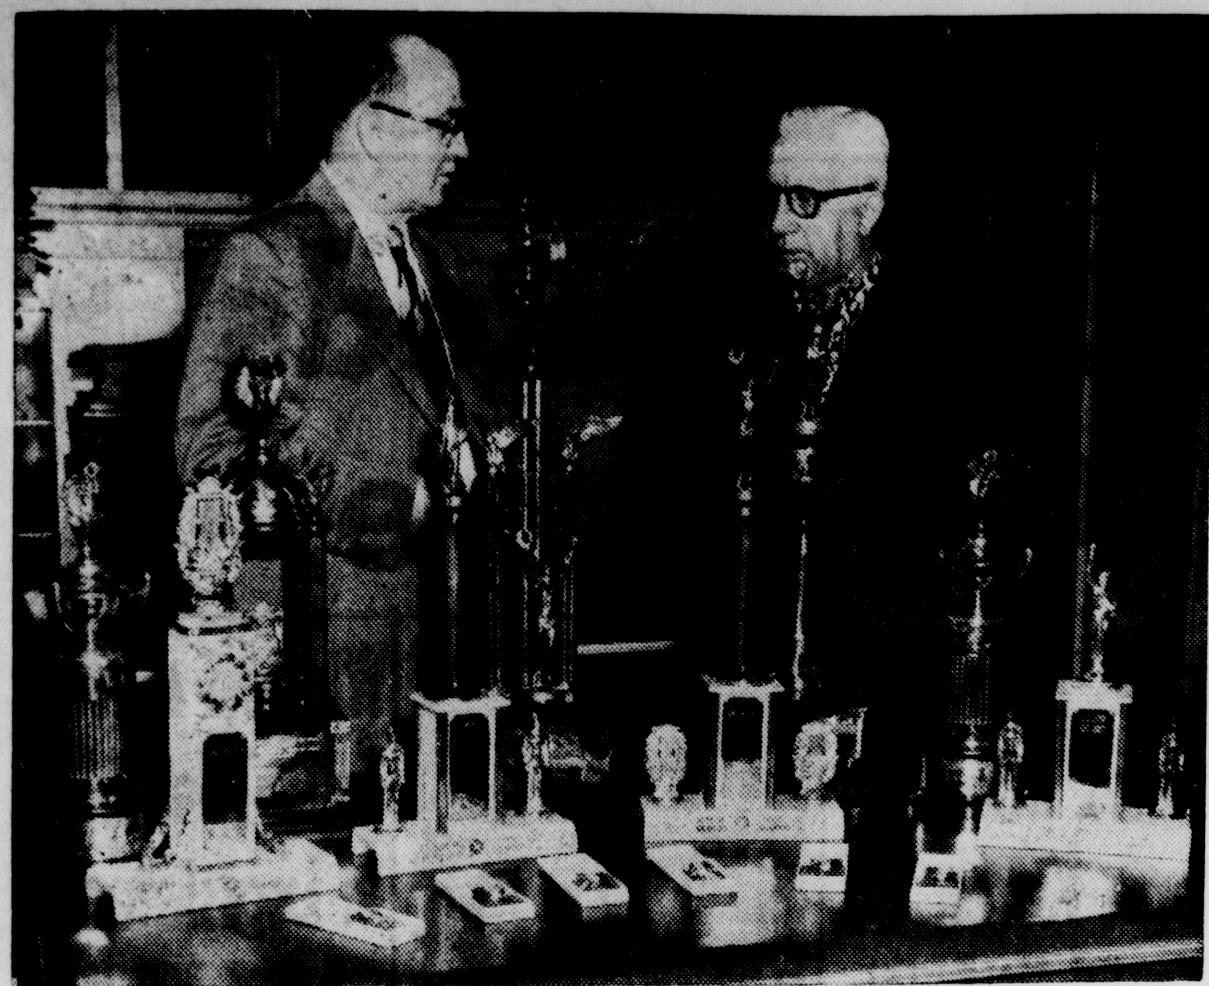

The lawmakers must adjourn by midnight tonight, even if they have to stop the clock and slip into Saturday's early morning hours, a tradition in Michigan legislatures.

Much To Decide
There was little numerically but a lot policy-wise to be decided before the final gavel falls.

The 1951-52 state general fund budget, dripping with red ink, began to run the final gavel, while the lawmakers virtually gave up hope of raising enough new money to meet even the new deficit, let alone past ones.

The legislature assembled Jan. 3 to receive a $296,000,000 budget recommendation from Governor Williams, who conceded that it lacked money for certain necessities.

Resident Engineer Arrives In City

Ronald Peterson, engineer of Consoer, Townsend and Associates, Chicago, has arrived here to take charge of the supervision of the construction of the Escanaba water plant.

The project is expected to require about 15 months construction time. Mr. and Mrs. Peterson have established their residence at 411 Ogden avenue.

The Pearson Construction company of Benton Harbor has started preliminary grading of the project site and is installing worksheds and other facilities in the area, located at Sand Point east of Radio Station WDBC. Actual construction awaits approval of the city's request for a priority rating for release of essential material.

Peterson arrived here from Bloomington, Indiana, where he was employed on another Consoer, Townsend project.

Delft Firm Acquires Stambaugh Theater

STAMBAUGH—Purchase of the perfect theatre, in Stambaugh, by Delft Theatres, Inc., of Milwaukee, formerly of Marquette, was announced late Thursday by J. B. Schuyler, of Milwaukee, company president with offices in that city. The consideration was not disclosed.

Acquisition of the Perfect, built in 1928 by the late Fortunato Brunelli, formerly of Caspian, came after several months of negotiations. The Brunelli brothers, Leno; Julius and Attilio, proposed that the Delft organization buy it.

The Delft company will take over the Perfect on June 1. Schuyler announced, adding that George A. Sattler, manager of the Delft at Crystal Falls, will be manager here, assisted by his wife, Toni. Sattler also will continue as manager of the theatre in Crystal Falls.

Cite Origin Of Delta's Names

History Group Hears Place Names Talk

The origin and meaning of Delta county's place names, some shrouded in controversy, was reported to the Delta County Historical Society at its meeting last night by Clint Dunathan of Escanaba, a director of the Society.

In dispute, according to historians, is the meaning of two of the county's principal names — Delta and Escanaba, Dunathan said.

Delta county originally was much larger than now and extended from the head of Green bay westward to the Menominee river, including in its boundary the present county of Delta, Menominee, and parts of Dickinson, Marquette and Iron. It was established in an act approved in 1843, and according to Michigan Pioneer and Historical Collections was named Delta because its triangular shape resembled the Greek letter of the same name.

From the Indians

Other sources, including two histories of the Upper Peninsula, say that Delta county was so named because it "resembled the delta at the mouth of the river Nile."

The name Escanaba is from the Chippewa Indian and first was applied only to the river. Authorities are in agreement the name means "flat rock" in the Chippewa language, Dunathan reported. He cited many references to the meaning of Escanaba as "flat rock."

Dunathan also told the Historical Society that in later years claims supported by more recent information indicate the possibility that Escanaba may mean "land of the red rock," although he believes this to be doubtful.

The Bays de Noquet were named for a band of Chippewa Indians, the Nokes or Nokens, mentioned first in the Jesuit Relations. Later spellings included Noquette, Noquette and Noc. Dunathan said the present Noquet spelling appeared most often in the English versions.

Agreement On Others

Origin and meaning of most other place names in the county appear to be undisputed as follows:

Wells—For Daniel Wells, pioneer lumberman.

Gladstone—For William E. Gladstone, British statesman of the 1880's.

Kipling—For Rudyard Kipling, English author.

Masonville—For E. P. Mason, prominent in the early history of the community. In 1869 Mason petitioned the Delta county board for the creation of Masonville township.

Nahma—Chippewa word for sturgeon.

Fayette—For Fayette Brown, official of the old Jackson Iron company.

Had Three Names

Rock—A name selected about 1915 by Postmaster Herman Johnson to avoid confusion between its former name, Maple Ridge, and a community similarly named in Lower Michigan. Rock had three previous names: Debeque, Malton Spur, and Maple Ridge.

Garden—For old Indian gardens on the north bluff of the present village site.

Danforth—For one of its first settlers.

Soo Hill—For its location near the Soo Line railroad.

St. Martin's Island—Named by Father Jacques Marquette on his voyage of exploration to the Mississippi.

Summer Islands—Camps of the Indians in summertime.

Sack Bay—Attributed to the sack-line shape of the bay; also possibly for the early location there of a Sac or Sauki Indian village.

Marquette—John Labby, Marquette; Marian Copeland, Armas Hamari, Norman Johnson and Martin Sapla, Ishpeming, and Ralph McClintock, Gwin.

Alger—William Henriksen and Gordon Moote, Munising, and Leland Jolgren, of Pelkie.

Chippewa—Carol Mae Becker, Frank L. Levin, John F. McKinney, Sault Ste. Marie; Robert Otto Wallis, Rudyard.

Gogebie—Raymond C. Erickson, Elaine R. Jalonen, Neal Edward Walker, Ironwood; Arno Philip Lugvli, Marquette.

Houghton—John A. Hillstrom, James Robert Paul, Laurium; Clifton A. Rautiola, Dolores M. Vitton, Hancock; Anita Marie Koski, Chassell; James P. Roberts, Calumet.

Luce—Mary E. Berglund, Newberry.

Ontonagon—Harold Hill, Ontonagon.

Menominee—Roland H. Carlson, Daggett; Douglas S. Turini, Nicholas.

Representatives of the Michigan State College Extension Service will accompany the party to explain various farm practices. Some demonstration plots placed on the farms by the extension department will be visited.

Walleyes Are Biting Again

Limit Pike Catches Are Reported

The walleyes are biting again! Sport fishermen were reminded of the phenomenal fishing of three and four years ago when they went trolling for pike in Delta county waters yesterday and today.

First signs of good fishing came Thursday from Big Bay de Noc in the Garden Junction area and the head of Little Bay de Noc at Rapid River and Masonville. This morning limit catches of 10 pike were reported by trollers who tried their luck on Green bay between Portage point and beyond Ford River.

The walleyes averaged about four pounds.

A heavy influx of out-of-state fishermen is expected this weekend. Most cabins and boat liveries reported reservations almost up to capacity.

The Michigan Conservation department will maintain its Escanaba headquarters office open until 7:30 each evening during the next few days to pass out information on walleye fishing.

Arthur Weberg President Of Wells Service Club

WELLS—Arthur Weberg was elected president of the Wells Service club at a meeting Monday evening at the Croatian hall. Other officers are Dale Polkey, vice president, Joe Bussineau, secretary, and Lawrence Klug, treasurer.

At the business meeting plans were made to expand the recreational facilities at Wells and to promote furtherance of safety plans and the program of health and sanitation.

A social hour followed the meeting with cards, entertainment by Johnny Collins and Dick Schmeltzer and refreshments. William "Bill" Casey was in charge of the lunch.

No 'Subsidy' To C&NW In Moving Gogebic Ore

Acute demand for iron ore at the smelters and a shortage of boats, not "subsidies" to the Chicago & North Western railroad, is resulting in additional tonnage of Gogebic Range ore coming to Escanaba rather than to Ashland, Wis.

Leonard C. Reynolds, superintendent of the Peninsula Division, C&NW railroad, today said rail shipping of Gogebic ore to Escanaba is expected to continue so long as the need requires.

The North Western is hauling the ore to Escanaba as directed by the mining companies of the Gogebic range, he pointed out.

Ashland Is Hit

The statement by Supt. Reynolds followed published complaints by Ashland city councilmen that rail shipping of ore from the Gogebic range to Escanaba was "making the local shipping season one of the poorest since the depression."

Charges were made that "the North Western is trying to hog the iron ore shipping," and that the difference to the mining companies in shipping 162 miles to Escanaba rather than 42 miles to Ashland was being paid by the "government." The Ashland city manager was asked to contact congressmen and senators "to determine if subsidies are being paid to the North Western."

It was reported that Ashland officials feared the decline in ore shipping there might lead to the loss of the Soo Line railroad shops. Two hundred dock and railroad men were out of work, it was reported.

Deny 'Subsidy' Claim
Supt. Reynolds at Escanaba categorically denied the North Western was receiving a "government subsidy" in handling Gogebic range ore.

"With reference to the statement made at Ashland that subsidies are being paid to the North Western railroad for handling ore from the Gogebic range to the Escanaba docks, we are receiving only the rates established by the tariff for the traffic handled," Supt. Reynolds said.

These rates, he pointed out, are established by the tariff bureau subject to the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission. They are public records and can be examined on request.

"There is definitely no element of subsidy in connection with our ore business," he added.

Volume Is Increasing
The rail shipment of Gogebic ore to the C&NW docks at Escanaba began years ago but has been small in amount until this year. Last year to this date 1,014 cars of Gogebic ore had been received here. This year to date it totals 6,650 cars.

For the season last year the North Western moved a total of about 352,118 tons of Gogebic ore by rail to Escanaba. The figure this year will be much higher.

Routing of iron ore shipments is the prerogative of the mining companies, it was pointed out. The railroads, including the C&NW, have no authority to tell its shippers how to route traffic.

Two Main Reasons
It is generally understood that two principal reasons exist for the decision of the Gogebic range mining companies to ship their ore via Escanaba.

First is the acute need of iron ore at the furnaces on the lower lakes.

Second is a shortage of boats in the Great Lakes iron ore fleet. Great Lakes shippers report that ore carriers can make three trips to and from the port of Escanaba on Lake Michigan as against two trips to the port of Ashland on Lake Superior.

While there is no saving in transportation cost, there is a saving in time and in light of the

P-M Will Open Lawrence Mine

Excavating Begins At Crystal Falls

CRYSTAL FALLS—Plans to put the Lawrence mine, held as a reserve for many years by Pickands, Mather and company, into production, were revealed yesterday by Harold J. Richards, of Caspian, general P-M superintendent in this area.

The ore would be hoisted through the old Carpenter mine shaft, exploratory work on which was started this week.

Richards said that excavation work near the collar of the Carpenter headframe will determine whether the shaft can be recovered. The ground has caved in near the shaft. If feasible, the Carpenter shaft will be repaired for the operation.

Excavation is being done by Henry Vantaggi, Iron River contractor.

The Lawrence property has never been mined, but millions of tons of ore are known to exist there. The Caspian office said that the Lawrence, when developed, would employ about 150 men.

The P-M concern acquired the Carpenter property, surface and mineral, from the M. A. Hanna company during the last year. It was obtained largely, company officials said, for the hoisting of ore from the Lawrence, named in honor of the late Charles Lawrence, of Caspian, former P-M general superintendent.

City Of Grand Rapids Pleasure Boat Sold For Scrap In Chicago

CHICAGO — (P) — The 3,000-ton Lake Michigan pleasure steamer, the City of Grand Rapids, was sold to a scrap metal dealer for $56,250. The 315-foot vessel cost $3,000,000 to build in 1912.

Ralph Michaels of Chicago, who bought the vessel at a bankruptcy sale, said he would wait 60 days before dismantling it. He said he would send out brochures to steamboat operators just in case they're interested in buying it.

The boat is moored at Benton Harbor, Mich. Its dismantling would leave Chicago with only one pleasure steamer, the North American, operating here.

Veneer Mill Will Be Built At Sault

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich.—Negotiations for the establishment of a veneer plant in the Sault were completed Wednesday noon, C. D. Everett, chairman of the Sault Industrial Committee said today.

Everett said that the Manthei Brothers, Theodore and Ernest, have expanded their plans since acquiring the Gould Pavilion site, and intend to about double their capacity. Original plans called for a veneer plant, but in recent days the brothers have decided to expand and will also construct a veneer panel plant.

As a result about 70 men, instead of 35 men will be employed, and the annual payroll is expected to be about $200,000.

The Manthei brothers are expected to be in the Sault Friday to prepare for conversion of the new plant.

Price Ceilings On Amusements

Escanaba C-C Has Copies Of CPR 34

The Office of Price Stabilization has placed commercial and personal services, as well as amusement and recreational facilities, under a ceiling price regulation separate from the general price freeze of Jan. 26, the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce reports.

This regulation, CHR-34, covers several thousand West Michigan and Upper Peninsula business establishments whose annual business mounts into the millions.

CPR 34 was effective May 16. It retains the fundamental features of General Ceiling Price Regulation (original price "freeze"), including the base period of Dec. 19, 1950 to Jan. 25, 1951. However, by June 16 establishments covered by CPR 34 must post their ceiling prices in a prominent position.

In addition, ceiling prices must be filed by June 16 with the Grand Rapids district OPS, 143 Ransome avenue, N. E., Grand Rapids.

Some of the everyday services concerned by CPR 34 are: barbers and beauticians, auto, radio and household appliance repairs, laundry, dry cleaning, and tailor shops, shoe repairs, parking lots.

Expansion Of Tree Planting Program In U. S. Is Essential

BECAUSE of vital necessity, Germany and other countries of Europe as well have been more vigilant in forest conservation than the United States. Wastage is low and reforestation is widely accepted. During World War II, however, German timberlands took a severe beating and drastic overcutting resulted. Now German foresters are engaged in a vast reforestation program designed to restore the timberlands of that country for the benefit of future generations.

Our own timberlands also suffered by the heavy cutting necessitated by war production, although our problem is not as serious as that of Germany.

Reforestation is accelerating in this country and selective cutting and scientific forestry practices are becoming accepted as essential to the future well being of our forest industries. There are, however, hundreds of thousands of acres of land which once contained vast forests that are today lying idle, suitable only for forest growth. It is a challenge to this generation to restock this land.

The seriousness of the problem is evidenced by the fact that today we are cutting logs for lumber more rapidly than we are replacing them. In our own Upper Peninsula, most of the large sawmills have closed because there is insufficient timber of sawlog size to sustain these large mills.

We cannot afford to be complacent about our timber situation.

U. S. Has Stakes In French Election

FOR most of the postwar era, France has been ruled by uneasy coalition governments put together from the so-called center parties. The largest single party, the Communists, lacked sufficient strength to form a government. In France's long history of political instability, this period was one of the most unstable.

Western statesmen consequently have been looking forward anxiously to the time when new French elections should be held, anticipating a new alignment which might assure to the French a greater continuity at the top policy-making level.

Those elections now are definitely scheduled for June 17, and the free world has a big stake in the outcome. It is not too early for our own state department and other foreign offices to begin weighing the various courses of action that might be necessary in the light of an altered alignment.

The consensus among French political observers is that the elections will show a pronounced swing to the right. This is expected to reduce sharply the Communist representation in the Chamber of Deputies, probably to a point where the Reds could not pose a serious threat to any non-Communist coalition.

But this same swing is figured to slash the strength of the moderate center parties which together have been ruling France in the postwar era. If the forecasts are accurate, the big gainer will be the Gaullist movement headed by Gen. Charles de Gaulle, wartime leader of the Free French and strong rightist.

The Gaullists now are a small group virtually without influence in the Chamber. Prediction on their likely strength after June 17 range from 100 to 200. Assuming even minimum gains, the Gaullists would thus become a party to be reckoned with. It would be impossible to form a workable coalition without them.

Of course, should de Gaulle win in a great sweep, he would be able to form a cabinet without help from anybody. But few analysts consider this more than a bare possibility.

What seems important for America and the other western powers to think about is how French policy may shift with the Gaullists either in control or a substantial element in the governing coalition.

General de Gaulle is a man with positive ideas. Men who knew him in World War II will testify he is not easy to work with. He is haughty, aloof, inflexible. But for the sake of the harmony of the North Atlantic alliance, we and other allies of the French had best be figuring how to deal with him and his ideas.

The general's views in the foreign affairs are not at all well defined. He does believe that a rearmament of Germany is essential to defense of the West. But he wants French leadership over all military forces in Western Europe, on the ground that France presumably would contribute the largest share of manpower.

This attitude, if maintained, could make trouble in the NATO countries. The prevailing feeling among them is that whether it be the supreme commander or the leader of a particular branch of the European defense force, the chosen officer should be the man most acceptable to all participating nations.

Internally, the Gaullists favor a stiffer effort to squelch Communists in government services, and given full power they would probably move to purge them drastically. Theoretically this would be a benefit to the West, which worries a lot about French internal security. But the value of such tactics might be tempered somewhat if the Communists were able to organize strong counter-measures through their powerful footholds in the trade unions and their well-developed, armed political cells.

In short, a new French government may indeed turn out to be more stable than any in the past several years. But if this means bringing General de Gaulle back to a position of influence or power, it may mean simply trading one set of problems for another which could prove equally disconcerting to NATO effectiveness.

Finest Years

If you're nothing but a parent who would give your kids advice, you will very soon discover that a little will suffice. Just a word or two is all they want to hear from older folks, and your hesitant suggestions oftentimes they take as jokes. But someday, you think, they'll know that you were telling them the truth, when you used to say their finest years were those of carefree youth.

Now they think they have to hurry in the job of growing up, though you try your best to tell 'em that it's fun to be a pup. Not in all their lives, you emphasize, will living be so gay, as it is in golden moments of a fleeting youthful day. But to you, in patronizing air, they say they cannot wait, for the day they come of voting age and reach a man's estate.

You can tell them of the troubles and the heartaches and the pain, that adults must always shoulder as they walk life's rocky lane. You can tell them, in later years, the clock goes far too fast, and that childhood days will ever shine in everybody's past. But it's not until they, too, are old and mourn departed youth, that they realize, long, long ago, you spoke the gospel truth.

MARTIN

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Just a year ago, an American citizen, George S. Wheeler, issued a blast against the United States and announced his intention to live in Czechoslovakia. He and his wife are still there, reportedly teaching school.

Interesting inside fact about Wheeler is that, five years before, the U. S. Civil Service commission had suspected his disloyalty and ordered him fired. But thanks to the intervention of well-meaning friends, he was reinstated and permitted to occupy a key job in Germany.

The man who chiefly went to bat for Wheeler was David A. Morse, former counsel of the National Labor Relations board, former under-secretary of labor, now with the International Labor office at Geneva.

To a lesser extent, Wheeler was also supported by Gen. Frank J. McSherry, director of the manpower division of the Allied control council in Germany, and by Gen. Philip Fleming, then chief of the Public Works administration, later chairman of the maritime commission.

This was back in 1945, of course, when Americans were considerably more trusting than they are now. The incident presents an interesting case history illustrating how unsuspecting Americans can get sucked into supporting Communists.

WORKED WITH KPD

The Civil Service commission first acted to fire Wheeler when he was chief of the denazification control branch of the control council in Germany after receiving reports that Wheeler was a courier for the KPD, the German Communist party. This belief arose from the fact that after Wheeler had visited certain cities, the local branch of the KPD would immediately begin agitating along the latest Communist lines.

As a result, William H. Hull of the Civil Service commission wrote on Jan. 2, 1945: "Mr. Wheeler has followed the Communist line in its changes from before 1939 to date. Evidence relating directly to this matter is supported by other evidence that shows Mr. Wheeler's active participation and sympathetic interest in policies and programs directly and indirectly furthering the objectives of Communism."

"The position to which Mr. Wheeler was appointed is of such importance to the government of the United States... that great care must be exercised... Mr. Wheeler has been rated ineligible."

However, David A. Morse, then a lieutenant colonel and Wheeler's immediate superior, wrote a long letter, Oct. 1, 1945, stating, among other things:

"I am taking this opportunity now that I am back in the states, to submit this letter in Mr. Wheeler's behalf with my estimate of his high integrity and unquestioned loyalty to America."

Later, Oct. 29, 1945, Morse appeared before the Civil Service commission and testified that "If Wheeler had been dismissed pursuant to the Civil Service letter of Jan. 2 the constructive side of the U. S. post-war effort in Germany would have been adversely affected."

So Wheeler was reinstated and served with the American military government in Germany from Dec. 30, 1945 to Dec. 29, 1947. Three years later, on April 7, 1950, he asked for asylum of the Czech government and has since been reported by the Czech press as making speeches in praise of that "Communist paradise" and attacking the "war-mongering" of his native country, the United States of America.

BLOCKING THE COMMUNISTS

Assistant Postmaster General Jack Redding had given the nation an illustration of what can be done regarding the Chinese Communists diplomatically when you really get on the ball.

Last winter Redding attended a meeting of the Universal Postal Union at Cairo, where the Chinese Communists won an important victory. Despite the objection of the United States and much to Redding's disgust, they were seated as a member of the Union.

However, another meeting of the Postal Union was scheduled for May 21 at St. Gallen, Switzerland, and Redding immediately got busy. He notified the anti-Communist friends of the U. S. A. that he would like to see them attend the St. Gallen meeting and vote with us against China. As a result, Turkey, Mexico, Colombia and Brazil, which had not participated before, showed up.

And this week, thanks to Redding's alertness, the Postal Union voted 10 to 6, with three abstaining, to boot Communist China out of the Postal Union.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

San Sebastian, Spain—United States embassy representatives said tonight after interviews at the Spanish-French border with 140 American survivors of the Egyptian liner Zamzam that they probably would not be released by the Germans until late next week. The main difficulty was said to be over the exit of 24 American ambulance drivers who were enroute to Africa to join the free French forces when the Zamzam was sunk by a Nazi raider.

Escanaba—The vast operation of the National Youth Administration and what it is doing to provide valuable work experience for youth in Michigan in preparing them to take over jobs in national defense industries is revealed in a report just made public by Orin W. Kaye, state NYA administrator. Escanaba's workshop is one of 65 in the state.

20 YEARS AGO

Escanaba—Railway mail clerks who worked on trains running between Chicago and the Upper Peninsula had headaches galore. Letters to "Skaneateles Bay" or "Hoo-konto" (Oconto) or "Susan Mary, On American Side" for Sault Ste. Marie, U. S. A., and "Urli for Hurley, were some of the choice addresses.

Gladstone—A new welding shop at 800 Superior avenue, erected recently by Ed Larson, was opened to the public Wednesday. Larson was formerly located at the Chaffield building on North Ninth street.

Manistique — Miss Florence Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Williams of this city, was recently honored at Kalamazoo college when she received medals for winning the girls' singles and doubles tennis championships.

California Defense Plant's Incentive Plan Stirs Interest Of Industrial Men

"INCENTIVE PLAN" WORKER. "Noboddy looked up from his job as our party walked through," says a defense official after visiting this General Controls Co. plant in California.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

NEA Staff Correspondent

GLENDALE, Cal. — (NEA) — One of the hottest war production ideas in the country is the incentive pay plan of General Controls Co., makers of jet engine controls and numerous other vitally-needed aircraft apparatus.

Its amazing success at licking most of the knotty labor problems plaguing America's expanding war industries delights Pentagon officials. It has aroused the interest of industrial experts all over the U. S. Here is what the plan has accomplished for General Controls:

It has reduced turnover to a minimum of less than one-half of one per cent. Absenteeism is practically non-existent. While all other West Coast industries are frantically recruiting workers General Controls is swamped with applications. About the only way to get in is to know somebody inside the plant. The company gets along fine with the union—International Association of Machinists.

The diligence and hard work which the plan inspires among its workers give the company a favorable competitive position in its particular market. It probably has one of the highest production-per-worker rates of any industry in the U. S., independent labor experts agree. Last year it doubled its sales to $13,200,000.

There is not much basically new about GC's incentive plan. A standard is set for a particular job, based on what the average worker would accomplish without loafing during an eight-hour day. Then an employee is paid extra for everything he produces over that average.

It is the completeness of the plan, plus some brand new wrinkles, which makes GC's version unique. There are 30,000 different measured standards for 1200 employees. Even many of the white-collar workers have standards over which they get incentive pay.

The result is that each employee makes about $2000 a year above his basic salary—and above the average for the Los Angeles area. With other pay ideas the average employee of General Controls now makes about $5000 a year, and many production workers are in the $9000 to $10,000 bracket.

On top of the incentive plan is a suggestion plan. When a worker discovers some way to speed up the production method he is given exactly half of what it saves the company during one year. For adding a belt-line conveyor to a particular welding job one employee will make himself $4000 this year, for example. That's on top of his other pay.

In addition, GC has a profit-sharing and retirement income plan. When an employee has been with the company two years he is permitted to put $100 a year in a fund, which is added to by a part of the company's profits, and which is then invested for more profit by a Los Angeles bank.

Probably the most original idea in GC's incentive plan is a gimmick which inspires intense co-operation among employees. A worker actually only gets 60 per cent of the extra pay he earns. The balance goes for plant-wide distribution.

This keeps a worker from doing his job merely for speed. He knows that if he does a faulty job which might hold up another operation of the plant, he loses a part of his extra pay. It provides a human group-control against loafing.

A defense official from Washington who watched the plant in operation described it this way: "Noboddy looked up from his job as our party walked through. I never saw such a minimum of wasted effort or loafing, yet noboddy was knocking himself out working, as far as I could see."

General Manager Alvin Ray, one of four brothers who run the plant with their father, says the key to its success is convincing your employees that you're going to be fair with them. "Once a standard is set for a particular job you can't change it just because a man starts making a lot of money," he adds. Nevertheless, the company reserves the right to make new standards any time a new production machine or method is discovered.

"We couldn't maintain our competitive position unless we did this," he explains, "and our employees realize this."

You saw intense concentration coupled with intense cooperation in every phase of the work."

At first, before 1943, the GC incentive plan was branded as a simple speed-up by the unions. They fought it and struck against it. Today, the union insists on the plan in its contract. Typical reaction is that of union shop steward Harry Reerick, who says:

"From my standpoint, as a member of labor, this incentive plan is a 'must' if we are going to continue the present economic system in this country. A man must be paid for what he earns. He is here."

THE OLD TIES—For most of us there is a connecting tie that binds us to the community of our youth. So it is with William M. Harris of Hortonville, Wis., who spent his boyhood in Escanaba.

It has been some 40 to 50 years ago since he lived here, but he has been back a few times to "renew old and make new contacts." He recalls that when he left here Escanaba had its Daily Mirror, and assumes correctly that the Escanaba Daily Press is its successor. Harris subscribed to the Press "to see if there is anything in the paper about the old names in the news."

For the benefit of oldtimers of Escanaba, Harris is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Peter D. Harris. "My folks used to run the Sinclair hotel in the 1900-1908 period," he writes.

We wonder if he does not mean the old St. Clair hotel near the C&NW railroad station. So far as we can determine there was never a Sinclair hotel in Escanaba.

THE VACANT OFFICE — There are some county offices that (at least in recent years) have been more often unfilled than filled.

These include the offices of county surveyor, county drain commissioner, and (except by appointment to fill vacancy) circuit court commissioners.

Latest resignation creating a vacancy is that of Allen Heikkinen as county surveyor. Elected last fall, Allen took office Jan. 1 of this year and must now resign because he is largely engaged in geological survey work for mining companies outside Delta county.

Quitting the office will be small loss to him, for the county pays its surveyor not one cent. Nor does the county appropriate salary for a drain commissioner, although some other counties do.

The office of circuit court commissioner has gone begging for candidates in recent years and is filled by appointment.

Most townships do not (although they could if they wish) elect highway overseers, as they are called. Principal reason is that under the law there is no such thing as a township road anymore, all of them becoming incorporated with the county road system a number of years ago.

THE BEAR HUNTER—Out of the conservation department comes the story of Bernard Strick of Houghton, his dog and a bear.

While looking over his traps last month, Strick came upon what he thought was a bear's den. Returning the following day with his pet collie (definitely not of hunting dog caliber), Strick was amazed to see the collie trot right up to the den and disappear inside.

Strick got his gun ready and waited. He waited for five minutes. Not a sound of fighting, growling, or anything.

In mounting alarm for the safety of his dog, Strick fired into the air. Out of the den came a large bear, licking its chops. Strick shot the bear. Then out came the collie, none the worse for several minutes visit with bruin.

Strick had the bear skin made into a rug—for the collie to sleep on.

IMPROVING THE PIONEER — Delta county folks who visit Pioneer Trail Park on the Escanaba river this coming summer will undoubtedly appreciate the improvements now being made there.

They should appreciate it, for it has been many a long year since any major work has been undertaken. The work was financed with a $2,000 appropriation made last October by the board of supervisors and the county road commission directed the improvement program.

Bill Karas, county road superintendent-engineer, says every effort was made to stretch the appropriation as far as possible. This is well, for $2,000 will not stretch too far in developing a tract of land comprising more than 90 acres.

It is the hope of the public that Pioneer Trail and other county parks will see more improvement in the years ahead. Perhaps after the board of supervisors see what has been done with their appropriation they will find some way to allocate more funds for park purposes.

A little work each year, carried out under a studied plan of development, will soon show remarkable results.

THE "BOSS'S" CORNER

Pasadena: There is a merry war on in my organization concerning my insistence on omitting the vestigial salutations and complimentary closes from the letters I dictate. I haven't used them for years, for I can see no point in calling people I don't even know "dear," or trying to convince them that I am theirs sincerely. If they can't tell from the tone of the letter, I haven't written it well. And if I haven't written it well, flowery phrases won't help. Won't you please give your opinion to the public at large (if you agree with me, that is)?—T. B. H.

Bravo! At last I have found the Twentieth-Century-Executive I've been searching for! I agree with you 100 per cent.

Generally speaking, the average executive is a brilliant dynamo of a man, as up-to-the-minute as today's front page... until he rings for his secretary. Then he sets his mind back 100 years, and off he goes into the most elegant prose ever penned—he thinks. Of course the unfortunate person who receives his rambling but beautiful bit of verbosity seldom is able to understand what he's talking about; but that is of minor consideration.

However, today I want to talk primarily about the point T. B. H. has raised—those protestingly affectionate affectations, the salutation and complimentary close.

The truth is that salutations and complimentary closes have no meaning whatsoever. They are, to quote from one of my own books, "relics as useless and incongruous as a whisker on a jeep."

Is Mr. William Worcester Wink, of Wink, Blank, and Blink, "my dear"? Indeed not! He's neither mine nor dear to me. (Dear means: "esteemed; precious; loved; regarded with affection.")

Letters From The People

Propaganda

Dear Editor:

The June 5, '51 issue of LOOK carries an interesting article by a staff writer, Hubert Pryor, titled, "Should We Wage Secret War on Russia?"

We definitely should not. In reviewing Russia's success after spending huge sums of money and at least 25 years of the combined efforts of the best brains in Russia, it has very little in the way of success to show for it. In twenty-five years it should have conquered the world through its propaganda if it were possible.

Propaganda just defeats its own purpose as in the end truth and the deeds speak louder than words. There are few people, who can write propaganda that fools many people, contrary to belief, even uneducated people develop remarkable reasoning power, in life's school of hard knocks, and can't be fooled by trumped up propaganda and illogical promises.

Russian propaganda has made little impression on the masses. About the only victories Russia has gained with it are through diplomatic channels, where governments have betrayed the people to gain their own ambitions. Governments have given in to Russian demands, betraying innocent people by letting Russia draw the iron curtain over them.

Such injustices as allowing Russia to collect high war contributions from countries to pay for its arming, while she refuses to pay honest lend lease debts and giving Russia huge Marshall aid commitments to still further its chances to arm for another war, while refusing aid to countries in matters of life and death are examples of bungling in the most stupid forms. Unless we quit such practices we can expect to, in the end, reap what we sow: The hate of the people we betray for Russia to use against us. If we added lies and propaganda, to the already existing injustice to complicate matters, we would be the worlds biggest fools.

The article brought out the weakness in the Voice of America program which should be corrected as soon as possible to assure the success of its objective. It should be patterned after Radio Free Europe program to make use of those who have left the iron curtain countries; they know more about what should be broadcast to the people left behind, than Americans do.

Farm Expense Going Higher

Production Costs Up 10 To 15 Per Cent

Record breaking farm expenses, shortages, and more inflation—they're all in the picture for the remainder of this year, say Michigan State College agricultural economists.

The economists report an expected production expense increase of 10 to 15 per cent this year over 1950. Last year's expenses broke all previous records.

It is still a paying proposition, however, to use the best seeds and plenty of fertilizer and other items that make for high crop yields and a large volume of production, they advise. In spite of production difficulties and a late spring, farm production could set another record this year if weather from now on is average or better.

Labor is the item most likely to be scarce. Farm wage rates are now 15 per cent over a year ago, and will be even higher as competition from city jobs and the armed forces increases.

Phosphates will be scarce. Nitrogen and potash supplies are larger than last year, but still too little to meet demand. Metals for building will be hard to get. Parts shortages for farm machinery will show up later and could be serious.

The MSC economists say there will be few real shortages of consumer goods in the near future. But apparent shortages will appear later because of increased demand and greater diversion of raw materials to defense projects. More inflation is in the wind, too, the economists conclude. Although price levels are not changing much now, it is likely that the upward trend will be resumed in a few months.

Facts On Chiang Army On Formosa Disclosed

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON — At last in piecemeal fashion the facts are beginning to come out about the Nationalist troops of Chiang Kai-shek on Formosa. This is due in large measure to the forthright and soldierly answers given by General Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, in answer to questions from senators conducting the inquiry into General MacArthur's dismissal.

The Nationalist troops are not wanted in Korea because they have to be equipped and transported and when they got there they would be of doubtful value. This statement by Bradley should dispel the illusion — propagated both from Formosa and from the China lobby in this country — that trained and equipped forces are ready to be picked up and taken within a few days' notice to the Korean front lines.

Mission To Formosa

Many months ago the true status of Chiang's force was established and by MacArthur's own staff. A top-secret document of last September tells the story in detail. The Senate committee has that document which, as this is written, it has not yet decided to release.

On August 5, 1950, a survey mission was sent by General MacArthur from Tokyo to Formosa. The mission was headed by Major General Alonzo P. Fox, deputy chief of staff. Fox and 36 other officers spent nearly the entire month studying the military situation on the island and the capabilities of Chiang's armies.

The Fox mission had been told to find out (1) whether the Nationalists could defend the island without the presence of the United States Seventh fleet, which had been ordered by President Truman on June 25 to set up a neutrality patrol between Formosa and the mainland; and (2) whether the Nationalist troops could defend the island if the Communists should get through the barricade of the Seventh fleet and make a landing.

Couldn't Defend Island

The answer to No. 1 was most emphatically in the negative. The answer to No. 2 was also in the negative. In other words, Chiang's armies could not carry out a defensive action in the limited area they occupied. This means, of course, that they would be worse than useless on the offensive.

After Fox and the members of his mission flew back to Tokyo on August 26, they prepared their lengthy report. It was submitted to General MacArthur who stamped it "reviewed and approved."

Late in November MacArthur asked the joint chiefs to okay the use of Nationalist troops in Korea. Almost nothing had happened in the meantime to change the capabilities of those troops. But United Nations armies were desperately hard pressed by the massive intervention of the Chinese Communists.

A week ago Chiang, himself, offered his forces to the commanders in Korea even though still nothing essential has happened to change their capabilities. Either he does not know the true situation or this was purely a propaganda gesture. The requests he has put in for equipment — air, navy and ground—add up to billions of dollars.

As was first reported in this space, a joint chiefs' recommendation in December of 1949 to send an American military mission to Formosa was overruled when the state department persuaded the president against it. A little later when the proposal was brought up again in a White House meeting, the president, with some irritation, declared that the matter had been settled and would not be reopened.

Would Ask Acheson

This is a point on which the senators are anxious to question Secretary of State Dean Acheson. Obviously, if a mission had been sent a year and a half ago instead of a month ago, at least a part of Chiang's forces would be in a state of readiness, and capable at the very least of a successful defense of Formosa.

Prepared for this question, Acheson will cite a report of the central intelligence agency assembled on the basis of carefully evaluated intelligence from throughout Asia. The conclusion of the CIA was that Formosa almost inevitably would fall to the Communists some time during 1950. In explanation of the highly controversial state department memorandum advising diplomatic officers in the Orient to prepare opinion for the fall of Chiang's last bastion, Acheson will testify to a telephone call from an assistant secretary of defense, acting presumably on the orders of the then secretary, Louis Johnson, warning of the need to get ready for Formosa's loss.

The questioning on who was right when and why is likely to stir tempers, particularly since the target in the witness chair will be Acheson. But the discussion will be academic, since the history of the past year and a half cannot be reversed. It is important, however, to get the record straight on the Nationalist force in being on Formosa so that only those will now be deceived who want to be deceived.

Here's Where the Pounds Pay Off

FIRST thing that people notice when they take over a Buick is the sure-footed stance this fine automobile has on the road.

You head into a curve and hold firm and true. You travel a turnpike without sway or wander.

While your wheels may dance when you hit a stretch of washboard gravel—your car holds its level course.

A lot of things account for this beautifully poised performance, but it starts with stalwart structure and ample weight—plenty of pounds where pounds are needed.

Please don't get us wrong. This isn't "deadweight." Though a Buick like the one pictured here tips the scales at more than two tons, it's as nimble as an antelope at play.

It has a generous hoodful of valve-in-head Fireball power—packing a powerful punch of velvet velocity.

It comes with the smooth magic of Dynaflo Drive*—a lightness of steering that's gently responsive to a lady's hand—a front-end geometry that's pure genius—the finest brakes ever put on a Buick.

And every wheel rides on shock-eating coil springs that are carefree and trouble-free for the life of your car.

You'll also find—by a few moments of simple arithmetic—that the pounds in this bounteous beauty pay off in another way. On a cents-per-pound basis, it will cost less to buy than anything else near its weight and power and size.

Why not visit us real soon—like the first thing tomorrow—and let us show you why you and your budget will both be happy with this Buick?

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Buicks.

No other car provides all this:

DYNAFLO DRIVE* • FIREBALL POWER

4-WHEEL COIL SPRINGING • DUAL VENTILATION

PUSH-BAR FOREFRONT • TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE

WHITE-GLOW INSTRUMENTS • DREAMLINE STYLING

BODY BY FISHER

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Buicks.

U. S. War Casualties Are Double Official Figures, Says Solon

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator Bridges (R-NH) said today that the total United States casualties in Korea—including both battle and non-battle — "are substantially more than double those officially announced."

Bridges told reporters this as he emerged from the closed-door testimony by Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the joint chief of staffs, on the firing of general Douglas MacArthur.

Bridges said that "non-battle casualties have been kept from the public announcements even though they include men who have suffered frozen legs and arms that have been amputated."

He added that a larger number of non-battle casualties recover and are able to go back to combat or other duty.

"For the first time in these hearings the total casualties have been brought out," Bridges said, adding that they should appear later in the censored transcript of Bradley's testimony furnished newsmen.

A senator, who would not permit use of his name, said Bradley testified that total Korean casualties now are 141,955 including a total of 11,292 dead.

This source said that battle casualties among U. S. forces in Korea amount to 69,276 of whom 10,680 were dead while non-battle were 72,679 of whom 612 are dead.

The newest defense department announcement listed 66,216 casualties, up 1,293 over the preceding week.

May Ceremonies Held At Marygrove Draw Many Visitors

GARDEN—A very large group of visitors from surrounding communities took part in the impressive ceremony which was held on the grounds of Marygrove Sunday afternoon.

Officiating at a beautiful altar made of roses, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Zyrd of Marquette gave the Benediction after the solemn dedication of the family to the Immaculate Heart of Mary Rev. John V. Suhr delivered the sermon and clergy of the diocese attended.

Fifty children, trained by the Sisters of St. Dominic, formed a procession led by James La Vallee, crossbearer, followed by the altar boys. Barbara Joque reigned as Queen to crown the new statue of Our Lady of Fatima, which will be placed on the second floor at Marygrove.

Little Mary Ann Deloria carried the pillow on which was the crown and Becky Bernier and Kathleen Boudreau carried the ribbons. Page boys were Donald Greene and Robert Ralph. The queen was escorted by Marlene Guertin, Lynn and Clarence Winter, Marilyn and Marlene Winter, Doris and Della Rivers, Ray Maynard, Carole La Tulip, Mary Tatrow, Jacqueline Reno, Jacqueline LaCost, Jeanne Thibault and Faith Lester, who wore formal of pastel colors.

St. Cecilia Choir of Escanaba sang the music and Escanaba Knights of Columbus took part in the ceremony.

Presidential Field Still Open, Truman Tells News Writers

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman, asked whether he would run for the presidency again next year, said the season is still open.

As he has before, he told a news conference he has made up his mind what he is going to do, but is not ready to disclose his intentions.

That decision, he said, has not been affected by what he called the ruckus kicked up by the great general from the Far East.

This was an obvious reference to Gen. Douglas MacArthur, whom he ousted from all his commands.

Mr. Truman did tell the newsmen he would regard another try, if he made it, as a race for a second, rather than a third term.

Mr. Truman, elected as vice president in 1944, took over the presidency in 1945 and was elected president in 1948.

At another point, Mr. Truman remarked that anybody who wants to be a candidate for the Democratic nomination.

Asked about reports that he will take a cross-country trip this summer, the president said that if he does he will give correspondents plenty of notice so they can go with him.

Bottled Intoxicants Cut Off At Sodus During Fruit Season

LANSING—(AP)—Two package beer and wine stores in Sodus will be closed during the fruit picking season this year.

The State Liquor Control commission reported the closing was agreed to at a conference between Sodus licensees and townspeople in the commission office.

A spokesman said the townspeople asked for the sale of bottled intoxicants to be halted between June 1 and October 1 because of a "serious enforcement problem" resulting from the sale of beer and wine to migrant orchard and cannery workers.

The spokesman said the two licensees in the community agreed to surrender their license voluntarily during that period.

Eglantine Farms' 1950 Ford F-1 Pickup stayed on the job in all weather, on all kinds of roads, in the nationwide Ford Truck Economy Run. Over 5,000 Ford Truck operators took part in the run.

"We haul feed for 14 1/5¢ a mile!"

Russell Deener of Eglantine Farms was at the wheel of the Ford F-1 during the Economy Run, got black-and-white proof that "the Ford costs less to run than any truck we ever owned."

Most power from the least gas is what you get with the Ford Truck Power Pilot. It's on all Ford's more than 180 models! Only Ford in the low-price field has the Power Pilot. Saves you money every mile! New 1951 Ford F-1 Pickup shown has new fingertip gearshift, new Free-Turn valves, new high-lift camshaft. Grain-tight body, Big capacity. Choice of V-8 or Six!

"I am sold on the Power Pilot economy of Ford Trucks," says the manager of Eglantine Farms...

"The performance of our Ford F-1 Pickup far surpassed our expectations," reads the statement from Eglantine Farm & Feed Service. "The Power Pilot gives us more power from less gas." Eglantine Farms operate eight Ford Trucks, two trucks of another make.

Their Economy Run records show that in 12,994 miles of the Run, the F-1 Pickup hauled an average load of 1,039 lbs., had no repairs, cost them a total of $233.65 for gas, oil and maintenance (they got regular service from their Ford Dealer). Result—a running cost of only 1 1/5¢ a mile!

Today and tomorrow are Poppy Days Here

Today and tomorrow are Poppy Days in Manistique.

Members of the auxiliaries of both the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars are on the streets today and will be tomorrow to offer the little red hand-made flowers for sale.

Both selling groups are operating independently, the two veterans units having selected May 25 and 26 as Poppy Days by coincidence. Proceeds from the sale of poppies, however, are used for similar purposes by both organizations—to bring aid and comfort to veterans and their widows and orphans, and to carry on the VFW and the American Legion rehabilitation programs.

Purchasers are urged to buy poppies from both groups on an equal basis and to contribute generously when they receive a poppy.

IN BENEFIT SHOW—The well known Prairie Ramblers from radio station WLS, Chicago, will appear in person at the Timbertrail and bandshell combined benefit show at the Oak theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, June 6 and 7.

Also on the program will be the famous Stags from station WGN in addition to talent from Sault Ste. Marie, Munising, Marquette, Manistique and other communities.

Club Growers Given Advice

Bernhardt Issues Spud Instructions

As one of his concluding services to Alger and Schoolcraft county 4-H potato growers, Fred C. Bernhardt, former district 4-H club agent, issued instructions and advice on preparing for the 1951 4-H potato crop.

Last year Schoolcraft county 4-H growers won a blue ribbon at both the Upper Peninsula and state potato shows.

Urging young producers to better this mark during the 1951 season, Bernhardt listed the following procedures to follow:

Be sure that your ground is in good condition before you plant.

Use plenty of barnyard manure if you have it.

Use a commercial fertilizer such as 3-12-12 at the rate of 800-1000 pounds per acre.

Be sure you have good seed that is free from disease; get certified seed if you can.

Treat the seed with semasam bel or corrosive sublimate to prevent scurf and scab.

Spread your potatoes in a light place to give them a chance to sprout for at least 10 days before you plant.

Plant as early as possible.

U. P. Track And Field Finals Here Saturday

353 Athletes From 42 Schools Will Compete

Amazing White Sox Are Driving In 2nd Place

With Ray Crandall

Some sports observers have poked fun at the American fans and athletes, calling this country a land of "record-breakers". There's honesty in the jibe, and every red-blooded sport follower will jump up with little or no provocation to defend his attitude. Every time an athlete takes to his particular field of endeavor the fans are hoping for a farthest, fastest, highest, longest or best performance in that particular sport.

Crandall

We'll admit that the thing can be carried to extremes, and some records approach the ridiculous. But we'll go along with Mr. and Mrs. Spectator in the eager anticipation of some all-time record performance to add further thrills to competitive athletics. Always, of course, with the fact in mind that balance, team performance, cooperative effort and sportsmanship are of prime importance in nearly all sports.

There is a possibility that some Upper Peninsula track and field marks may be equalled or bettered during the finals meet here Saturday. For your convenience we have compiled the U. P. records and the best performances (in class B only) in last week's regional trials. You may wish to study it a while and keep in mind the athletes who seem capable of approaching the existing records...

Frank Lane, the man who isn't afraid to scorch his fingers in a deal, can take a bow for the amazing success story of the Chicago White Sox.

Paul Richards, the new manager Lane brought in from Seattle, rates the big cheer. But the man behind the scenes is Lane, the energetic go-getter who is the Chicago general manager.

Wanted Richards
Lane wanted Richards as his manager when he took the Chicago job in 1948. But Jack Onslow already was hired. Jack did good enough in '49 but a year ago tomorrow he got the boot. Red Corriden finished out the year while Lane waited for Richards to get free.

Only Jim Busby of the Sox regulars can be called a farm product and this is his second shot.

Lane pried shortstop Chico Carrasquel from the Brooklyn farm system. He got first baseman Eddie Robinson from Washington, second baseman Nelson Fox from the Philadelphia A's, and outfielders A' Zarilla from the Boston Red Sox and Ed Stewart from Washington. Those are just a few. And last month he got Orestes Minoza in part of a slick three-way swap with Cleveland and Philadelphia.

Everybody laughed when they said the Boston-Chicago deal last

Ed Kukuk New Cage Coach At Stambaugh

STAMBAUGH—Ed Kukuk, assistant football and basketball coach for three years, has been appointed head basketball mentor for the 1951-1952 term of Stambaugh high school. M. G. Mahlberg, superintendent, announced today.

Kukuk succeeds Willard Anderson, veteran athletic director, who asked to be relieved of his basketball duties. Anderson will continue as head football coach and will serve as an assistant to Kukuk in basketball. Kukuk also will remain as assistant to Anderson in football.

Robert Noonan Is New Menominee Cage Coach

MENOMINEE—Robert Herald Noonan, 38, former basketball coach at Lourdes, Oconto and Lena, was named cage coach of Menominee high school, succeeding Harold Titus, who has resigned.

Noonan was hired from a field of 33 applicants. He will be assistant coach in football and will teach physical education and in the science department.

The new Maroon mentor is a native of Oconto. He graduated from St. Norbert College in De Pere, where he starred in football and basketball.

Crystal Falls' Maki Pitches No-Hit Game

CRYSTAL FALLS—Erland Maki, three sport star at Crystal Falls high school, turned in a no-hit pitching performance for the Trojans Tuesday afternoon, downing previously undefeated Niagara 3-1.

The game leveled off the standings in the Menominee Range Baseball conference, with Crystal Falls, Niagara and Iron Mountain all listing three wins, one loss.

Maki, six-foot, four-inch senior, will be a member of the Trojan track squad competing in the U. P. track and field finals in Escanaba Saturday.

winter was "even up" with no cash. Chicago got Joe Dobson and Zarilla and Dick Littlefield for Bill Wight and Ray Scarborough, two established regular pitchers. So Dobson is 3-0 and Wight and Scarborough have one win between them.

Gumpert Tops Phils
Harry Dorish, a Brownie and Red Sox discards, was drafted from Toronto for $10,000. On the eastern trip he came up with two wins.

Yankees Blast Tigers 11 To 1

Detroit Team Comes Home In 4th Place

DETROIT—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers came home today from a two-week road trip that gave them seven victories and five setbacks.

At the start of the trip they were four games behind in fifth place. Following a humiliating 11-1 defeat inflicted by the pace - setting New York Yankees in New York yesterday, the Tigers are five and a half games behind in fourth place.

The Tigers will have a chance to improve their position when they open a home stand in Briggs stadium tonight with the last-place St. Louis Browns. Hal Newhouser (4-2) will be on the mound for the Tigers. He will be opposed by Al Widmar (2-3).

Ostrowski Wins

The Yankees and Tigers now are even at two victories apiece in their season play. But Yankee Manager Casey Stengel treated the Tigers yesterday as if they were a lowly second-division outfit. He started 31-year-old Joe Ostrowski, a southpaw who has never had a winning season in the majors, against the Bengals.

He went the distance and breezed easily to a triumph although he was touched for ten hits.

Bob Cain made his first start for Detroit. He gave up only five hits in five and one-third innings he worked, but two of those were home runs.

Brides Become Luxury Fixture In East Africa

LONDON — (AP) — The British colonial office reported gloomily today that western style inflation has boosted the price of brides among the Gusi tribe in East Africa until they have become a luxury item.

Up until 1942 a man could get a grade A bride for six cows, one bull and 10 goats. But then the war and the effects of civilization began to penetrate into the British crown colony of Kenya and the price of a good wife went up.

At the end of 1947, tribesmen complained they were being asked to deliver over 16 cows, one bull and as many as 20 goats for the same quality wife they could have picked up at half the price a few years back.

The ruling Barazas—Gusi tribal councils—figured the only way to fight this inflationary spiral was with another western device—price control.

So in 1948 the grand tribal council pegged the price of a reliable brand Gusi wife at the pre-inflation rate of six cows, one bull and 10 goats.

For a while things settled down peacefully in Gusi country and a man could pick up a wife without straining his budget.

But now one more western trend has crept into the daily life of the tribe. Gusi fathers with especially desirable daughters began demanding "under the counter" payments in addition to the fixed price of six cows, one bull and 10 goats.

The effect, the colonial office complained, has been to start the price spiral all over again.

Oliver Shampine, Retired Munising Merchant, Dies

MUNISING—Oliver A. Shampine, retired Munising businessman, died at 10:45 Wednesday night in his home at 130 East Onota street, following an illness of four years. He was 66 years old. Born March 20, 1885, in Cross Village, Mich., he had resided here 44 years, moving here from Manistique in 1907. When he first came to Munising he took charge of the Central Market, formerly located where the Michigan Bell Telephone Company office building now stands.

He went into the grocery and meat market business prior to World War I, and at the time he entered the service he had formed a partnership with Roy Baker. This partnership was terminated shortly after the war and from that time until 1947, when he retired due to ill health, he had operated his own meat and grocery business.

He was a 30-year member of the Roderick-Prato post, American Legion, and Sacred Heart church and a veteran of World War I.

Survivors are his wife, Margaret; a son Oliver J., Chicago; a daughter, Mrs. Richard Hallifax, Munising; three sisters, Mrs. Ida Brissette, Manistique; Mrs. Theodore Willebrand, Frankfort; Mrs. Louise Floria, Milwaukee; three brothers, Ted and Robert, Detroit, and Simon, Manistique, and a grandson, in Munising.

Funeral services will be conducted at 9 Saturday morning in Sacred Heart church with the Rev. Gerald F. Harrington officiating. Burial will be made in Maple Grove cemetery, where the American Legion will hold military services.

Navy Reports 23 Men Missing After Launch Capsizes At Newport

NEWPORT, R. I.—(AP)—Twenty-three men are missing after the launch capsized in which two sailors perished yesterday, the Navy said today.

"Several" of the missing, however, may simply have overstayed their leave, the Navy said. Names of the missing will be made public after notification of their next of kin.

Twenty-six men were hospitalized after a 50-foot launch went down in a howling northeaster yesterday morning.

Windup Scheduled For Midnight In State Legislature

dominated legislature in the position of raising his estimates. In the past the G. O. P. took glee in slashing Williams' budget estimates.

Legislative chiefs hoped that 20 bills now in house-senate conference committees to iron out disagreement were all that would need the compromiser's touch. Seventeen of the 20 committees reached solutions for submission to both chambers.

But it was certain that the budget bill would have to go to a conference committee. There was serious senate disagreement with the $307,000,000 budget approved in the house last week.

The house passed its own version of a bill to increase the corporation franchise tax on a 69-6 vote. The measure would increase the tax from 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 mills and remove the present $50,000 ceiling on tax payments, to produce an estimated $20,000,000 additional revenue.

Buses Go Yellow
The bill must go back to the senate which approved a four mill tax and a $350,000 ceiling.

Legislation to impose sliding-scale penalties on overloaded trucks, ranging from two to ten cents a pound, cleared both houses and went to the governor.

Final disagreements were ironed out and the governor got the bill to order new and repainted school busses to be "national school bus chrome yellow" instead of red, white and blue.

The legislature boosted state payments to local hospitals for crippled and afflicted children's care from $12 a day for acute care and $8 a day for ward care to $16 and $12, accepting the lower of two proposals for increases.

Russians Flying Some Enemy Airplanes In Korea, Says Collins

WASHINGTON — (AP)—Gen. J. Lawton Collins said today "We are quite convinced" that Russians are flying some of the Communist planes in Korea.

Collins, Army Chief of Staff, also said that equipment captured from the Chinese Reds is "mostly Russian."

Collins was testifying at the Senate inquiry into foreign policy and the dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

He told the senators "I did concur" in the decision to relieve MacArthur of the Far Eastern commands.

And he said he felt that MacArthur's proposed Korean strategy "would not be worth the increased risk of getting us now into a major war." This was the same argument made by Secretary of Defense Marshall and Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who were earlier witnesses in the hearings.

Far East Air Force Bomber Chief Leaves

TOKYO—(AP)—The Far East air forces today announced appointment of Brig. Gen. Robert H. Terrell to succeed Brig. Gen. James E. Briggs as commander of FEAF's bomber command.

It was the third major change in FEAF's top command in two days. Terrell formerly led the 93rd bombardment wing at Castle Air Force Base, Merced, Calif.

Briggs will return to the U. S. for reassignment.

Eighth Army Hits Across Border At Retreating Reds

second spring offensive. "It looks like the pursuit tactics are working well," Van Fleet said. There will be no technical limit on running down the Reds.

The whole U. N. line was moving forward at the beginning of the 12th month of the Korean war. Solid gains of two to six miles were punched out Thursday.

The Reds backed up fast. But they left rear guards who fought bitterly to slow the allied advance. Communist artillery forced one allied tank patrol to return to the main body of troops.

Armies Split
The Chinese retreat route in the east was blocked by a huge U. N. armored force astride the main highway, nearly four miles north of 38.

Infantry and artillery with the task force seized the Choyang river crossing near Inje and dug in on both sides after a dramatic 13 mile drive. The bridgehead was reported firmly established at 8 a. m. Friday. Allied tanks patrolled the Hongchon-Inje highway and battled with Reds in the hills.

The action split the Chinese armies and forced shattered remnants of Red forces to take to mountain trails. There planes and plodding troops hunted them down.

Warplanes battered retreating Chinese and Red Koreans around the clock on all roads leading north. They reported 50 trucks were knocked out during the night by flare-dropping planes.

Baby Snooks Creator, Fanny Brice III With Cerebral Hemorrhage

HOLLYWOOD — (AP)—Fanny Brice, radio and stage comedienne who once said she had gotten everything out of life, is critically ill.

The creator of the radio character, "Baby Snooks," suffered a cerebral hemorrhage yesterday at her Beverly Hills home. She was taken to Cedar of Lebanon hospital and placed in an oxygen tent.

Miss Brice, 59, has been in show business since she was 13. She said she planned to retire some time this year "because it's too much work."

Her precocious character, "Baby Snooks," was introduced in the 1921 Ziegfeld Follies and became an immediate hit, but did not take to the air waves until 1938, when it became a household name. She was earning $6,000 a week from the radio program in 1946 and said: "It's like stealing; I don't have to work into it, for it's part of me."

Retired Gen. Truscott Ordered Back To Duty

OKLAHOMA CITY — (AP)—Lt. Gen. Lucian K. Truscott, Jr., former military governor of Bavaria, yesterday was ordered back to active duty.

Truscott retired from the Army in 1946 after a heart attack suffered while serving as the military governor of Bavaria.

The 56-year-old Oklahoman will act as coordinator and advisor for military security, defense organization and public safety to John J. McCloy, high commissioner for Germany.

During World War two he commanded the Fifth army in Italy and the Third army on occupation duty in Germany. Truscott is credited with organizing the United States' First Ranger outfit.

Chicago Bartender Freed In Slaying Of Detroit Jewler

DETROIT — (AP)—Dwight L. Sweet, 26, a Chicago bartender, was freed by police yesterday after seven hours of questioning failed to shake his denials he had anything to do with the ambush-killing of a Detroit jeweler.

The jeweler, Albert Swartz, 43, had turned government witness in a $27,000 theft of photographic film.

Sweet came here voluntarily to be questioned in the week-old killing.

Inspector John Cotter of the homicide squad said Sweet was released "because we haven't enough evidence for a warrant."

Resistance To Reds Grows In Bulgaria

ATHENS —(AP)—Reliable reports reaching Athens today said resistance to the Communist regime in neighboring Bulgaria is growing in intensity. The reports said there had been sabotage and that government storehouses containing food supplies and grain had been burned in rural areas.

Pentagon Maps New, Secret Plans In Korea

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Gen. J. Lawton Collins told senators today a new and secret plan of campaign for the Korean war is being mapped by the Pentagon.

He declined to discuss it at Senate hearings on the dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur but said "a definite new directive" will be issued "shortly."

Collins also said he personally had thought it might be necessary to remove MacArthur even before he learned President Truman was considering it.

Collins, the army chief of staff, backed to the hilt both the ouster of MacArthur from his Far Eastern commands and the present strategy in the Korean war.

Collins made a reference to prospective new strategy while being questioned by Senator Saltonstall (R-Miss.).

Steadfastly he said it would be premature to tell the senators about it at this time.

"But you do say," Saltonstall pressed him, "that for the first time, then, and you are the first witness who has said so, that there is a course of policy now being studied and planned which we could say was an affirmative policy for ending the war, is that right, in Korea?"

Collins replied: "Well, I do not know whether I could go to that extent. The point I make is that the instructions under which General Ridgway is operating are now being reviewed by the joint chiefs of staff, and a definite new directive will be issued to him shortly."

Death Takes Former Wayne Prosecutor, Duncan C. McCrea, 65

BAY CITY, Mich.—(AP)—Former Wayne county prosecutor Duncan C. McCrea, who went to prison in the Ferguson one-man grand jury graft investigation, died in Mercy hospital here early today.

McCrea, 65, had entered the hospital after suffering a stroke while visiting in Mio a few days ago.

In recent years, after failing in an attempted political comeback, McCrea had been absent from the limelight.

The former prosecutor of Wayne (Detroit) county was one of the chief defendants in the sensational crime exposures of the present U. S. Senator Homer Ferguson.

Ferguson, then a circuit judge of Wayne county, uncovered the connections of gamblers and racketeers with public officials.

A virtual parade of county and city political heads went to prison along with hangers-on and racketeers. Among them was the late mayor Richard Reading of Detroit.

McCrea, after an oft-times brilliant career in sending crooks behind the bars, himself went to prison in 1940.

He had been convicted of accepting graft to protect vice and gambling, an accusation of the Ferguson one-man grand jury.

McCrea was sentenced to four and a half to five years. He served his minimum term less time for good behavior.

Senate Economy Bloc Fails To Cut Down Military Spending

WASHINGTON —(AP)—A Senate economy bloc has failed in its first effort this year at trimming down military appropriations.

An attempt by Senator Case (R-SD) to cut $318,984,000 out of a $6,442,668,000 defense deficiency bill was defeated yesterday in the Senate on a voice vote.

The Senate passed the bill and sent it to conference with the House, which had allowed about $25,500,000 more than the Senate.

The measure is the fourth supplemental appropriations bill to be passed for the current fiscal year ending June 30. These are in addition to the regular departmental appropriations bills.

The bill passed yesterday included $6,379,673,000 for the defense establishment, $59,323,000 for the atomic energy commission and $3,672,000 for the Bonneville power administration in the interior department. More than half of the military money is for weapons.
